Thank you once again for all your responses and we will use these to continue to help drive our school improvement.

It was pleasing to see that no parent strongly disagreed with any of the statements. Only a few of the parents who disagreed with a statement gave details of why they disagreed.

I removed the SEND question from the results, as all parents were made to choose an option for this question and therefore the data was skewed. We will now send this question out to only those parents of children on our SEND register.
